

Anna's Hummingbird — Many species of hummingbirds live in the Southwest U.S. Small but fierce, hummingbirds can hover, fly backwards, and may be territorial, chasing away rivals. Male Anna's Hummingbirds have a glimmering red throat and red head.

Colors: green and gray with red throat and head.