

Lesser Goldfinch — These little birds can sometimes be seen eating seeds from large sunflowers, creating a colorful scene. Depending on where they live, the males can have green or black backs. When singing, they sometimes use parts of songs from other birds.

Colors: dull yellow belly, green back, and black and white on wings.