

Mallards – When you imagine a duck, what sort of duck do you picture? Chances are it's a Mallard. In Spring, Mallards may be seen with a line of ducklings in tow. Like some other bird species, male and female Mallards have different colors.

Colors: mother: light and dark brown; duckling: yellow and brown.