

Steller's Jay — A big, loud, and colorful bird, Steller's Jays can raise a feathered crest on their heads. They often live in forests and, similar to Blue Jays in the east, will visit bird feeders. They are named after Georg Steller, who saw these birds near Alaska.

Colors: blue with striped wings. Black or dark blue head with white dots.