

Wilson's Warbler — With bright yellow and greenish feathers, Wilson's Warblers are small, colorful, and active. They were named for the Scottish ornithologist Alexander Wilson, who wrote American Ornithology, a book nine volumes long.

Colors: yellow belly, greenish back, and a black head spot.